Happy Thanksgiving!

It's here--one of my all-time favorite holidays. The one day a year when we get to give thanks for all the wonderful things in our life in the form of food, food and more food. The words "calories," "diet," "carbs," and "fat" cease to exist and we surround ourselves with good food, family, friends and, at least in my house, football. It doesn't get much better than that! What's more, since our eyes are always bigger than our stomachs, leftovers abound--which means at least a few more days of fridges filled to the brim with yummy fare just waiting to be fused into new, delicious concoctions.

And the second best thing about Thanksgiving--all those leftovers can be easily taken on the road. So while you're waiting with bated breath for our 23rd Annual Manufacturers RV and Boat Sale--which runs Jan. 7-17 at the Alameda County Fairgrounds in Pleasanton and offers an unparalleled selection of RVs, boats and accessories all under one roof--you can throw the leftovers in the RV and hit the road for some after-Thanksgiving relaxation.

In this newsletter, I've included some of my family's fave leftover recipes, which can be easily made from a campground or an RV, and taste delicious.

From our family to yours, have a wonderful Turkey Day, a great weekend spending time with your loved ones and remember to give thanks for all the good things in your life.

Happy RVing

Best Thanksgiving Leftovers for RVers

1) Mashed Potato Pancakes: Use your leftover mashed potatoes for a delicious breakfast side dish--kind of like hashbrowns, but better! Use this easy, quick recipe to fry up some golden goodness.

2) Turkey Salad: Tired of the same ole dry turkey sandwiches? Use all that leftover turkey to make a creamy, tasty and, if you're in the mood, a little spicy turkey salad. Eat it in a bowl or on some bread--either way it's sure to get gobbled up fast!

3) Cranberry Parfait: For some reason, my family loves cranberry sauce but can never finish it off completely. Instead of chucking it, whip up this yummy parfait using leftover cranberry sauce and whipped topping, stick it in the freezer and enjoy.

4) Mulled Wine: Got some leftover red wine? Maybe Uncle Bud brought a less-than-exquisite vintage you aren't too excited about uncorking? Mix it with some spices and a little brandy or port and you've got yourself some delicious, hot mulled wine that will make those chilly winter nights oh so much warmer. Oh, and this recipe's for after you pull into the RV park!
